SIMULATOR TRAINING

SIMULATOR COACHING

Using advanced simulation and training technology our coaches utilise structured training drills that are designed to develop your skills whilst progressively increasing the levels of challenge. Our bespoke training software records every aspect of your performance; technically, physically and mentally. This enables us to identify areas for focus and development, providing rapid and lasting gains in both learning and performance.

MONTHLY DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMME

iZone's Monthly Development Programme is designed to provide kart drivers with a structured training programme that ensures that key aspects of their training are addressed on an ongoing weekly/monthly basis. The programme is split into two sections: 1) Simulator Training, Assessment and Review, which we run at iZone (unless the driver has a home simulator, in which case we can train remotely), and 2) Weekly after school home training which includes, Performance & Mindfulness Clinics and remote physical training sessions, both delivered over Zoom.

INTERNATIONAL DRIVERS - TWO DAY INTENSIVE TRAINING

The iZone Intensive Training Programme is targeted at international drivers who want to take a jump in performance and develop their skills in the key areas that affect their on-track success, regardless of whether they are driving single seaters, saloons or GT's. The programme takes place over two days and covers the broad range of both on and off-track skills that drivers need to master if they are going to make careers in the sport.

KART TO CAR TRANSITION TRAINING

Whether you're moving to single-seaters or saloons/GT's, making the transition from karts into cars is one of the most critical times in a driver's career. We all know how important first impressions are, and alongside learning new skills, vehicles and tracks, making an impact in your first season can be crucial for future success and support. As such, it's important to get this change right, and be ready to hit the ground running!

ANDY PRIAULX SPORTS MANAGEMENT

APSM is a driver development company that is focused on helping talented karters to eventually become paid professional racing drivers and thereby help their parents and/or stakeholders achieve a financial exit. The Programme is underpinned by a team of leading specialists and our unique driver training centre iZone based at Silverstone Circuit, this provides us with a platform to shortcut the driver's learning process based around their specific needs.
